Quench has done it again! VOTED HOME BEAUTIFUL 'PRODUCT OF THE YEAR 2007'

Congratulations ONCE AGAIN to Quench Solutions Pty Ltd and team for ANOTHER sensational win for the Quench Shower voted by Home Beautiful for "PRODUCT OF THE YEAR 2007" Quench took the title in the Bathroom Category for 'Value for Money'.

The Quench Shower is a 'world first' home shower system that can reduce daily water consumption by as much as 82% (approximately 200,000 litres per annum) PLUS save around 87% energy.

These awards are very competitive and so it's a real privilege to be voted the winner. Developed in Australia, the Quench Shower relies upon only 4 litres of clean water to provide a continuous shower – for as long as you like!

"This is a huge win for the Quench team. We have had such a big 12 months and this award just makes it all worth while. The Home Beautiful expert panel didn't miss a detail - they had a strict criteria to adhere to. Quench was never developed 'to win awards' - it was created out of a commitment to save water. So much of it can be saved, and so easily, and here is the proof. The reality is though, it really is thrilling to be acknowledged like this - it proves we got it right and it reinforces the need to be smarter in the ways we manufacture products. Quench Solutions really appreciates the Home Beautiful vote" says Brian Gay, Managing Director of Quench Solutions Pty Ltd.

Quench is a high performance, reliable system that can save as much as 82% of your current water usage in the shower plus 87% of energy. That can represent around 200,000 litres per annum in a busy household. Considering that around 250,000 new homes are built annually in Australia and a further 450,000 homes renovated – the water saving capability is mind blowing. It's affordable and is produced as a full cubicle or a system installed in a shower you design yourself.
